Why study by distance learning?

Increasingly we all face more pressures in our business lives. Finding the time to attend courses of any kind can be very difficult and well-meant plans are often put aside indefinitely. Distance learning is the solution to your training needs:

- Enjoy the full benefits of studying for a recognised UK university postgraduate qualification whilst still in full-time employment
- Take control of where and when you learn and decide the rate at which you study
- Retain industry-leading course materials for future reference
- Apply your learning, knowledge, skills and expertise to your work straight away and help to further your career
- Network with tutors and like-minded professionals from around the world

With courses being delivered at different levels, distance learning can meet the needs of a truly diverse student body. High competition for jobs means having additional training and education can be a real advantage, whether you are in the market for a new career or simply want to progress in your existing position.

“The standard of teaching is what sets DMU postgraduate courses apart. The MSc Risk Management team were knowledgeable and passionate about their subjects and that passion was contagious”

DMU Masters Graduate, 2013

Course Syllabus and Structure

The course commences with an optional induction weekend in Leicester which takes place on 19th, 20th and 21st September 2014

The module teaching then begins with the Business Context module which is designed to put ‘risk management’ into an organisational context. This is followed by Risk Management I and II which will provide an understanding of the rationale for, and process of risk management and will provide an underpinning to the whole programme.

This is followed by other ‘core’ modules which add to the comprehension of a holistic risk management model:

- Internal Control & Audit – where ‘internal control’ is presented as the basis of risk management and the effectiveness of the internal control system is monitored by a process of internal audit.
- Business Continuity and Crisis Management – this module contemplates appropriate strategies and responses in the event of part of an organisation being unable to function as would be desired, or in order to respond to an unforeseen event.
- International Corporate Governance – which considers the procedures necessary in order to successfully monitor, control and manage various forms of business enterprise.

Following the core subjects, students will be asked to complete two option modules from a choice of three: International Finance and Political Risk; Strategic and Financial Decision-Making and Project Management.

All of the available electives have a strong link to ‘risk management’ and selection will be dependent upon student interests. Students would then complete the programme with a dissertation. The dissertation would have a strong link to academic theory whilst also offering an opportunity to focus on a ‘live’ organisational issue.

PHASE 1 – SEPTEMBER 2014 TO JANUARY 2015	PHASE 2 – JANUARY 2015 TO DECEMBER 2015	PHASE 3 – JANUARY 2016 TO DECEMBER 2016
Students must study 2 x 15 credit core modules from September 2014 to January 2015: Business Context (15) Risk Management I (15)	Students must study 4 x 15 credit core modules from January to December 2015: Risk Management II (15) Internal Control and Audit (15) Business Continuity and Crisis Management (15) International Corporate Governance (15)	Students must study 2 x 15 credit elective modules from January to May 2016. Students may choose from: International Finance & Political Risk (15) Strategic and Financial Decision-Making (15) Project Management (15)
		Students must study a Research Methods and Dissertation module worth 60 credits. This module will run from January to December 2016. Research Methods and Dissertation (60)

The Accelerated Route

Students can undertake to do the course following the Accelerated Route and complete their MSc in 21 months. Students will enrol in September 2014 along with the other students on the programme, and study the Business Context and Risk Management I modules until the end of December 2014. Accelerated Route students will then undertake to study all of their remaining modules between January and December 2015. The dissertation would be completed between January and June 2016. This is a very intensive but rewarding route and successful students will graduate with their MSc at the end of 21 months. Accelerated Route students are supported through the allocation of a special director of studies who will provide additional support and advice during their studies.

Weekend Seminars

Students are encouraged to attend a series of optional study days at De Montfort University in Leicester throughout the course. The first study weekend is the Induction Weekend on the 19th-21st September 2014. The weekend will give students the opportunity to meet tutors and fellow students, discuss the course and establish access to tutors during the coming year. The weekend will also provide students with the opportunity to get to know other students who will be studying the same modules. Four further study days are planned throughout the duration of the programme and these will take place in February, May and November.

Frequently Asked Questions about the Distance Learning Programme with Leicester Business School, De Montfort University

How do I enrol on the course?

Complete the Application Form attached to this brochure and send it to Richard Morgan, Informa Professional Academy (IIR Ltd.), 3rd Floor, Maple House, 149 Tottenham Court Road, London, W1T 7AD, UK Tel: +44 (0)20 7017 4752 together with copies of ALL your relevant certificates and/or transcripts of your academic qualifications, two references, a supporting statement, proof of English language proficiency (if applicable) and a copy of photo ID such as a passport. Alternatively you can scan your application form and all supporting documentation and send it to: richard.morgan@informa.com. You can also apply online at: www.informadl.com/risk. Your application is then sent to the Admissions Tutor at De Montfort University for consideration and you will be notified in writing by Informa Professional Academy on the outcome of your application.

What are the standard entry requirements?

To study at postgraduate level you must have one of the following qualifications:

- a degree from a UK university
- a relevant professional qualification
- an equivalent international qualification which indicates an ability to study at postgraduate level

Who do I contact if I have a query about my entry qualifications, programme content or Advanced Standing?

If you have any questions concerning your suitability as a potential student or specific concerns regarding the content of the programme please contact:

Kerry Green, Programme Administrator, Leicester Business School, De Montfort University.

E-mail: kgreen@dmu.ac.uk

Telephone: +44 (0)116 250 6254

How will I access the relevant reading materials?

It is important to realise that the materials provided are not self-contained but point towards the books, articles, cases, statutes and reports which you will need to read. Links are provided via the course website to various on-line legal resources which De Montfort University subscribe to. It is, nonetheless, important to have access to a good library.

What does the course cost?

The total course fee for students enrolling in September 2014 is £8,450 and the fee for the Accelerated Route is £8,850. The fee for the Postgraduate Diploma is £5,500 and the fee for the Postgraduate Certificate is £2,750. Fees include the provision of all course materials, tuition costs, access to relevant on-line resources at Leicester Business School, De Montfort University, the Induction Weekend and four further study days. Please note that travel and accommodation costs are not included in the fees and must be covered by the student. Full payment of course fees is required before the start of the course (i.e. by 18th September 2014) or within 28 days of receipt of your invoice, whichever is sooner.

Do I have to study for the full MBA?

No, you can choose to study for a Postgraduate Certificate (60 credits) or a Postgraduate Diploma (120 credits).

Are you seeking Advanced Standing?

Where you have previously studied taught modules at postgraduate level, it may be possible to exempt you from parts of the Masters qualification and you could obtain the MSc by studying fewer modules at a reduced course fee. For more information, please call +44 (0)20 3377 3209 or visit www.informadl.com/risk

What format do the modules take?

The modules come in the form of hard copy print or as PDF documents via the course website. The hard copy modules are bound together and sent out as booklets.

How will I receive my modules?

The hard copy modules will be sent to you by post. It is strongly recommended for ALL students living outside the UK that they opt to receive their materials by air courier. This will ensure the safe and timely delivery of course materials. Failure to choose the air courier option will result in the delayed arrival of your materials. There will be an additional nominal charge of £200 for air courier.

Materials sent by air courier will be delivered to your requested module mailing address between 8.30am and 6.00pm Monday to Friday only and will require a signature. The mailing address you provide must be manned during these hours and you must provide a contact telephone number or email address that you can be reached at between 8.30am and 6.00pm Monday to Friday.

How will my work be assessed?

All modules, whether core or elective, will be assessed by written assignment. These assignments will offer a mix of practical case study-based work and a consideration of academic theory. Assessments will vary in quantity, word length and focus from module to module with the aim being to contribute to a coherent assessment strategy across the programme as a whole. Very clear assignment briefs will be posted online, including specific assessment criteria and task information. There will be plenty of opportunity to discuss the requirements of assignment briefs as the modules progress.

How long will I spend studying each module?

People study at different rates, but we estimate that you will need to study around 150 hours per 15 credit module, including time spent on assignments.

Is there any contact time with the course tutors and participants?

Students are encouraged to attend a series of optional study days in Leicester throughout the course. The first study weekend is the Induction on the 19th-21st September 2014. The weekend will give students an opportunity to meet tutors and fellow students, discuss the course and establish access to tutors during the coming year. The weekend will also provide students with the opportunity to get to know other students who will be studying the same modules. Four further study days are planned throughout the duration of the programme and these will take place in February, May and November.

Industry links and professional accreditation

Follow the link below for further information on the Institute of Risk Management's qualifications: http://www.theirm.org/Qualifications/documents/irm_international_diploma_risk_management_brochure.pdf For the RDI Diploma exams students have to sit 5 level one modules (DMU risk management students are exempt from 2 of these) + 2 level two electives (DMU risk management students can get exemptions from 2 so would not have to sit these papers – as long as they take the Corporate Governance elective). DMU students can also apply for free student/affiliate membership of IRM, which then gives them access to their databases, journals, magazines, website etc. and our students can also gain free affiliate membership of AIRMIC – the Insurance Risk Management Association.

What is the language on the course?

The course is conducted entirely in English, both verbal and written.

Can I cancel my application?

Cancellations must be received in writing on or before 18th September 2014. You will receive a full refund less an administrative charge of £200. No refunds will be made in respect of cancellations after this date, and the full fee will be payable
