DEGREE SHOW
2012

At De Montfort University (DMU) the Faculty of Art, Design and Humanities brings together the world-leading research, award-winning work, and innovative thinking of the University's many creative disciplines. As an acknowledged leader in creative education, DMU boasts students who are consistently recognised for the quality of their work and internationally renowned academics.

Our show celebrates the talent and innovative work of our final year students. The exhibition showcases exciting creations by the next generation of artists and designers across our art and design courses and attracts over 4,000 visitors including potential employers.

We create highly employable graduates who benefit from our strong industry links, win national and international competitions, take part in industry placements, meet industry professionals and work on commercial briefs.
