About the Channel 4 bursaries

De Montfort University, in collaboration with Channel 4, has developed and runs an innovative MA in Investigative Journalism. We are looking to find, educate and train the best of the next generation of video investigative journalists.

We are especially keen to receive applications from minority groups who are currently under-represented in broadcast journalism, such as those who are disabled, BAME candidates, and people from socially disadvantaged backgrounds, as part of the DMU Freedom Equality and Diversity Charter.

But we recognise that many talented people may not have the resources to take up a place on the course. That's why we are offering financial assistance to those successful candidates who need it most.

Applying

Please ensure you answer all questions and complete all sections of the form. The questions help us to assess if you are eligible. If you would like any help in preparing your application please contact by email or phone – pervez.khan@dmu.ac.uk 0166 201 3844.

You should email the completed form to Pervez together with scanned copies of any supporting documents.

If you wish to post a copy of the form together with your supporting documents, please discuss this with Pervez first.

Make sure you complete the form in full and attach your supporting documents or scans of them. If anything is missing this will delay your application, and may well mean we cannot consider it.

The closing date for applications is Friday August 28th 2020.

When will I know the outcome of my application?

If you have completed all sections of the application form and sent all your supporting documents by the application deadline, you will be notified of the decision on or before Monday 28th September.

Application Checklist

Before sending the form, please ensure that you have done the following:

- Provide copies of your household earnings and savings, these could be bank statements, payslips etc (do not send originals). We may request to see originals before any award is issued.
- You have completed the application form.
- Completed the equal opportunities form.

Eligibility

Please read the descriptions below carefully to see if you are able to meet the principal scheme criteria. If you can, then you can continue with your application.

The bursaries are only available to full-time UK and EU students who hold an offer to study on our Investigative Journalism MA, are commencing study in autumn 2020.

The bursaries are aimed at:

- A) Candidates who demonstrate that they have the capacity to succeed in the industry.
- B) Candidates who can demonstrate that they would find great difficulty in undertaking the course without financial help.
- C) Candidates from one of the targeted groups of people who are underrepresented in the industry.¹

¹ Such groups are described in a) Journalists in the UK, Reuters Institute for the Study of Journalism, 2016, Thurman N et al, p 121; b) 2015 Employment Survey, Creative and Media Industries, Creative SkillSet, March 2016, para 2.72 c) Diversity and Equal Opportunities in Television, Ofcom, 14 September 2017, p 24

Equal Opportunities Monitoring

DMU is committed to equal opportunities. As is Channel 4: we are committed to reflecting at all levels the diverse population that watches our on-screen programming. It is vital that we monitor and analyse diversity information so that we can ensure that our processes are fair, transparent, promote equality and opportunity for all and do not have an adverse impact on any particular group. Any information provided will be treated confidentially. The categories we use are those recommended by the Commission of Racial Equality and Stonewall.
