

My role as a mentee in driving the relationship

The purpose of this diagram is to illustrate the mentee's responsibility in the mentoring relationship. The mentee should always be leading the relationship forward. This should be done so professionally with the mentor, and allow for the mentor to respond to the needs of the mentee. The mentor should not be in a position having to motivate and push the mentee forward.

